DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In the claims 1, 15, 20, 28 and 36, the limitations "load measurement circuit and load compensation circuit" are recited. However, the specification does not explain the nature of the load measurement circuit and load compensation circuit. Without some disclosures as to what constitutes the load measurement circuit and load compensation circuit, one of ordinary skill in the art not be able to make and use the load measurement circuit and load compensation circuit.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Patent numbers (4,733,195; 5,365,197; 4,540,954) are the distributed amplifiers.
